Success was in collaboration in research methodology with researcher from Victoria University, on qualitative research techniques as well as sharing ideas and discussions on research that was undertaken. Some interesting findings to add to current literature review. Another success was the commitment reflected by Victoria staff whom I worked with.

Challenges;

Main challenge during this phase of the research and study was finding time to write and juggling with workload as well expectations in teaching, teaching practice, staff attachment and extra- curricular activities pertaining to the faculty and university, which did not assist well with our writing.
